Visit Italy With Humanists

Ready for a humanist-themed minivacation? Steve and Susan Boshi plan to carry us away on Monday, June 17 at 7:30 p.m. at 700 Hartford Turnpike in Hamden.

Steve says, "In the early fourteenth century a new spring awakening began to grip Europe, predominantly in the Italian city of Florence. Building on Greek and Roman concepts nearly forgotten for a thousand years, this intellectual fervor grew to what has become known as the Renaissance.

"Join us for an evening of pictures and conversation of our fall trip to see the highlights of Bella Italia and a magnificent coda in the Swiss Alps."

We will begin with our customary half-hour of refreshments and conversation at 7:30 p.m. followed by this special European escape at 8:00 p.m. at 700 Hartford Turnpike in Hamden. Bring a friend!

Picnic June 1

Join us for our annual picnic on Saturday, June 1st from noon to 4 p.m., rain or shine, at the lovely home of Dr. Bob and Ms. Joan Rafford at 57 Clearview Knoll Road in Middlebury.

The Book Discussion Group: "The Believing Brain"

The Book Group will be meeting on Saturday, June 29 at 3:00 p.m. to discuss "The Believing Brain: From Ghosts and Gods to Politics and Conspiracies—How We Construct Beliefs and Reinforce Them as Truths" by Michael Shermer.

Synthesizing thirty years of research, psychologist and science historian Michael Shermer upends the traditional thinking about how humans form beliefs about the world. Simply put, beliefs come first and explanations for beliefs follow. The brain, Shermer argues, is a belief engine. Using sensory data that flow in through the senses, the brain naturally begins to look for and find patterns, and then infuses those patterns with meaning, forming beliefs. Once beliefs are formed the brain begins to look for and find confirmatory evidence in support of those beliefs, accelerating the process of reinforcing them, and round and round the process goes in a positive-feedback loop. In "The Believing Brain" Shermer provides countless real-world examples of how this process operates, from politics, economics, and religion to conspiracy theories, the supernatural, and the paranormal. Ultimately, he demonstrates why science is the best tool ever devised to determine whether or not our beliefs match reality.

Copies are available in public libraries, in book stores and online.
